LEX

TRITON LEX 2020

It shows deeper dark gold colour. It is medium intense on the nose, showing maturity, fullness, roundness, yeasty and fine oak notes, smoke, vanilla, butter. When swirling, aromas of pears, peaches and then caramel, dried fruits and dried pears are released. Opulent. Dry on the palate, with medium acidities and fuller body. The texture seems to be especially oily and thick. Flavour character is slightly more restrained than one the nose, but remains complex and becomes slightly more focused and defined. It fully occupies the mouth. Triton lex delivers a serious combination of elegant textural suppleness and aromatic tension forming a framework for complexity in all dimensions, including the time. Finish is long and warm with an invitation for another sip. A beautiful white blend.

Best from 2023–2033.
