FOJANA REBULA 2020

Fojana Sveti Duh | Goriška Brda, Slovenia
Altitude: 157 m

Southern exposure. Top of the hill. Sun throughout the day. Very rocky and opoka terrain, never lacks water. Planted 1980.

It shows medium deep golden colour, noticeably deeper compared to our classic Rebula. It remains discrete on the nose, though very varied. Ripe yellow apples, touch of fine oak notes, bread crust and salted caramel. Fine, well-knit and restrained.

Dry on the palate with noticeable acidity levels. Texture seems to be quite thick, massive, giving the wine width, depth and volume. There is a slight pleasant phenolic touch. With fuller, almost full body, demonstrating width and depth as well. Flavour intensity is slowly but persistently increasing, showing buttery notes, cloves, and touch of honey. At the same time there is plenty of tension and verticality - two classic attributes of Fojana. It is a very balanced wine where oak ageing is well-thought. 2020 edition delivers all the expected Fojana attributes while showing a bit more breadth. It delivers a very, very long finish. A top Rebula from Brda with a perfect ageing potential.

Drink from 2023–2032.
