FOJANA SAUVIGNON BLANC 2020

Fojana dolina | Goriška Brda, Slovenia
Altitude: 112 m

Northern exposure. Heavier soil structure, opoka mixed with clay. A little cooler vineyard - impact of northern wind. A lot of water in the terrain, never stressed in a dry periods. Planted 1987.

It delivers a deeper golden-yellow colour, clearly deeper compared to our classic Sauvignons. Bouquet is intense and juicy. Passion fruit, elderflower, gooseberry, mango, fine oak, melon. No doubt about the variety here, though with a very dramatic expression. Rich!

Dry on the palate with good acidity levels, fuller bodied with plenty of texture. Character on the palate is expectedly powerful and presents a veritable reproduction of the senses from the nose. White peach... When swirling it becomes even richer and seizes the whole mouth. Persistent. With a very clear and defined character this one demonstrates a true Fojana verticality. A Sauvignon Blanc with a big personality. With a lingering aromatic finish.

Drink from 2023–2032.
